

FASHION FOR ALL

2021 AATCC/Runway of Dreams Foundation Student Design Competition

SHOWCASE YOUR TALENT IN DESIGN TO WIN CASH, RECOGNITION, AND EXPOSURE IN THE FASHION INDUSTRY!

- Create or transform an accessory (bags, belts, jewelry, shoes, etc.) that reimagines fashion and function for people with disabilities. All accessories MUST be textile based!
- You may select any disability, ie. wheelchair users, people with autism, sight impaired, crutch/walker users, people with cerebral palsy, or other challenges. Accessories could hold medical equipment discreetly while being multipurpose for the user, be a product that functions better for someone based on their disability, make needed equipment more functional and fashionable, etc. (ie. functional features that can help someone be more independent in their daily lives, and/or hold needed items like feeding pumps, insulin pumps, catheters, suction machines, emergency medication, monitors, braces, communication devices, fidgets, or other items.)
- You MUST research and present the chosen population's challenges/needs. Entries will not be accepted without documented research.
- The accessory should be stylish, on-trend and enhance the everyday existence of the wearer with a disability.
- Make the designs both fashionable and functional. Be creative—think outside the box!
- Create a color palette inspiration.
- Phase 1: First, present your designs in a two-page pdf digital storyboard.
- Phase 2: Finalists will then be asked to produce a physical product or prototype and showcase the product in a 2-3 min video. If a sample item is too costly to produce, create a 3-dimensional illustration and explain the process that would be used to produce the product. See competition entry checklist for guidelines.
- All entries must be United States citizens. Only individual entries will be accepted—no groups.
- Students (undergraduate and graduate) must graduate AFTER Summer 2021 (graduating seniors are NOT eligible). You must be enrolled as a student during the Fall of 2021.
